

Question Answering Bot

Enter the Context first

NEW YORK: Technology giant Google might lose its search monopoly as the United States government has said that it might ask a judge to force Alphabet's company to divest parts of its business which, as contended by the Washington, are used to maintain an illegal monopoly in online search.

The development comes against the backdrop of a US judge's findings in August which said that the company had built an illegal monopoly owing to the fact that it processes 90% of internet searches

Next

Enter the Question

why google might loose its search monopoly

Answer

Answer

giving preference to Google's local business pages in search results.